

PROMINENT MEN WILL TAKE PART IN CONFERENCE

Discussion of South American Trade
Conditions Attracts Wide Attention.

CONFERENCE OPENS TUESDAY

Men of Note in Many Lines of Business to Take Part in Meeting
Called by Richmond Chamber of Commerce.

Complete plans have been made for the holding of what promises to be one of the most significant and important gatherings of industrial and commercial interests ever held in Richmond. The meeting, which has been called by the Richmond Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of discussing the opportunities of trade extension with the Central and South American countries, will convene at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, September 29, in the auditorium of the Jefferson Hotel, and will be in session until Wednesday night, September 30. The program arranged in connection with the conference is a most interesting one, including addresses by several of the best known and most influential business men of this section of the country.

The meeting will be called to order by President William T. Reed, of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce, and the gathering will be opened with prayer by Rev. R. B. Russell, D. D., Governor Henry C. Stuart will welcome the visitors to the State, and the address of welcome in behalf of the city of Richmond will be made by Mayor George Alsine. Responses to the addresses of welcome will be made by S. Davies Warfield, of Baltimore, chairman of the board of directors of the Seaboard Air Line Railway. After the opening formalities are over a chairman and a secretary to preside over the sessions of the conference will be selected.

MANY PROMINENT MEN TO TAKE PART IN CONFERENCE.
All of the larger railroad companies, important manufacturing and industrial enterprises and cities of this section of country will be represented at the conference. The interruption and partial suspension of trade between South American and European ports on account of the European war has opened a wide area of territory to American enterprises and every phase of the situation will be thoroughly discussed and carefully studied at the conference here this week. Concrete plans look toward trade extension will be formulated, and every effort will be made to secure practical results. Several committees will be appointed to work out details of plans which may be adopted and to effect a strong organization.

Richard H. Edmunds, editor of the Manufacturers' Record, of Baltimore, will address the conference on "Resources of the South."

DEATHS

BABCOCK—Died, September 25, 1914, at his home in Charles City County, Mr. CHARLES L. BABCOCK, after an illness of three months, he was seventy-one years old. For twenty-three years treasurer of Charles City County. He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Mrs. R. E. Walker and Miss Lelia Francis Babcock.

Funeral took place THURSDAY AFTERNOON at Mt. Pleasant Baptist Church.

JOHNSON—Died, September 24 at her residence, 106 Deny Street, MRS. LAURA JOHNSON.

Funeral at the Fulton Baptist Church SUNDAY 3 o'clock.

CARR—Died, at 5 o'clock Tuesday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John H. Rogers, Aspen Hill Farm, near Batesville, Albemarle County, Va., Mr. SAMUEL DARNLEY CARR, he was in his thirty-third year, having been born in June, 1822, and lived all his life in the home in which he died. He is survived by four daughters, Mrs. George Richards, ERTON, Va.; Mrs. John H. Rogers, Red Hill, Va.; Mrs. D. W. Jones, Rosewell, N. C.; and Mrs. Carr, Red Hill, Va., and one son, Mr. Aubrey Carr, Charlottesville, Va., and numerous grand and great-grandchildren. Among those from a distance who came to attend the funeral, which was conducted by his beloved pastor and friend, Mr. C. F. Comer, of Trinity Methodist Church, of which the deceased was a devoted and faithful member, were his children, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Carr, of Charlottesville, and his grand-children, Mr. V. V. Rogers, Spartanburg, S. C.; Mr. Allen H. Rogers, Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Ezell, Charlotte, N. C.; and his great-grandson, Mr. W. S. Rogers, Jr., Washington, D. C.

IN MEMORIAM

LORD—In sad, but loving remembrance of my dear husband, GEORGE C. LORD, who died May 27, 1914.

Oh, for a look at your dear face,
A touch of that vanished hand
Who left me alone long months ago
For the great eternal land.
He has taken you from this world of pain,
In heaven I hope we'll meet again.
BY HIS WIFE.

GALE—In sad, but loving remembrance of my husband, LENNIE GALE, who died one year ago yesterday, September 26, 1913.

Hour by hour we saw him fade,
And slowly sink away,
Till in our hearts we often prayed
That he might longer stay.

Gone in the best of his days,
Blighted in manhood bloom,
Gone from the hearts that loved him,
To sleep in the silent tomb.

POHLIG—In loving memory of our darling, MARIE PAULINE, who departed this life four years ago today, September 27, 1910.

Like a lovely flower she faded,
Oh, so young to drop and die,
But the Savior calls his loved ones
To that bright home there of high.

BOSQUET—In sad, but loving remembrance of our daughter, MARIE VIRGINIA BOSQUET, who died September 24, 1907, seven years ago, in the eighteenth year of her age.

Gone in the best of her days,
Blighted in womanhood bloom,
Gone from the hearts that loved her
To sleep in a silent tomb.

BOSQUET—In sad, but loving remembrance of my sister, MARIE VIRGINIA BOSQUET, who died September 24, 1907, seven years ago, in the eighteenth year of her age.

When they ask us do we miss her,
Oh, how it fills our hearts with pain;
It seems to us the angels whispering,
Have courage dear, you will meet again.

BY HER SISTER, KATHARINE.

REVOLT IN PARTY ON SHIPPING BILL

ber of the Rules Committee is quoted as saying that there is a secret agreement among the men opposed to the measure on that committee not to let the rule prevail unless it is assured in advance that there are enough votes in the House to pass the bill. Men who are involved in a fight to get remedial currency legislation for the cotton belt are so much opposed to the measure that entire State delegations are said to be solid against the bill.
It was said to-day that only one man in the Texas delegation would vote for the bill. The Georgia delegation is said to be solid against it, and Wisconsin will furnish some of the Democratic opposition and so will New York State.
The program as set by leaders who are trying to drive the bill through is to bring up the Philippine independence bill right away and to take up the shipping bill next. The opposition to the shipping bill will use the time occupied by the Philippine bill to drum up an army of votes against the measure or the rule to make it privileged. If the rule is killed the bill will not come up again. It is predicted.

OBITUARY

Charles L. Weller.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
STANTON, VA., September 26.—Charles L. Weller, a leading merchant of Stanton, captain in the Fifty-second Virginia Infantry in the Civil War, aged seventy years, is dead, leaving his wife, who was Miss Emma Brown. He was a native of Richmond.

Dr. Christopher P. Newhill.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
TAPPANHOCK, VA., September 26.—Dr. Christopher P. Newhill, formerly a prominent physician in Appomattox, Va., and late of this county, died suddenly at his home in Appomattox, Va., today. He is survived by his widow and two daughters, Mrs. J. W. Payne, of South Carolina, and Mrs. A. A. Cranialle, of this place.

Mrs. Annie Eliza Butler.
Mrs. Annie Eliza Butler, wife of Louis S. Butler, died at her home in Louisa County on Tuesday, after a lengthy illness. She was one of the best known women of the county, and had a large circle of warm friends. Besides her husband, she is survived by two children—Mrs. George V. Cameron and Miss Mary Louise Butler. Funeral services were held at Oakland Cemetery.

Charles L. Babcock.
Charles L. Babcock, seventy-one years old, for twenty-three years treasurer of Charles City County, died on Wednesday at his home, and was buried the following day, the funeral being held in Mount Pleasant Baptist Church, with Rev. R. E. Robinson officiating.
Mr. Babcock was one of the most prominent and respected citizens of the county. As a young man, he presided over the old Justice's Court of his county, and was, at the time of his death, county treasurer. From early youth, Mr. Babcock was a prominent church member, and was senior deacon of Mount Pleasant Baptist Church. He is survived by his widow and two children—Miss Lelia Babcock and Mrs. Vol. Walker.

James Peebles.
James Peebles, formerly of Glasgow, Scotland, but a resident of Richmond for many years, died yesterday morning at Catawba. Mr. Peebles was connected with the Rosemeath Brewing Company since coming to this city. He is survived by several sisters and brothers in Scotland.
The funeral of Mr. Peebles will be held from the home of William Grinnell, 1808 West Grace Street, Tuesday, September 29, at 3 o'clock. The pallbearers will be J. D. McIntyre, C. H. Smith, J. S. Scott, William Schmidt, William Grinnell, Clifford Smith, Herman Koster and C. R. Moore.

NOMINEE NEED NOT BE MEMBER OF A PARTY

Right to Seek Place on Any Ticket
Upheld by California Supreme Court.
SAN FRANCISCO, September 26.—The Legislature "is not bound to make membership in a party a condition of the right to seek the nomination of that party," said the California Supreme Court Thursday in denying an application to prevent the California Secretary of State from placing the name of Attorney-General S. Webb in the Republican and Democratic ballots in November. Attorney-General Webb is a Progressive, and at the recent primaries he won the nominations of all three parties.

The selection of candidates of the party is, under the law, committed to those who have declared their affiliation with it," said the court. "If they, the members of the party, seek to select as their candidate one affiliated with another party, no party is committed to prevent the California Secretary of State from placing the name of Attorney-General S. Webb in the Republican and Democratic ballots in November. Attorney-General Webb is a Progressive, and at the recent primaries he won the nominations of all three parties.

The ceremony was at the home of the bride, and was performed by the Rev. G. F. Lumpkins, of the Baptist Church. Mrs. A. L. Capehart played Mendelssohn's "Wedding March." The bride was given away by her father. The ushers were: J. K. Hawks, of Lawrenceville; Taylor Nanny, of South Hill, Va.; and B. W. Vincent, of Vantage, N. C. The groomsmen were H. E. Valentine, of Vantage, Va., and W. C. Hubbard, of Oxford. The bridesmaids were Misses Beale and Birdie Brooks, of South Boston, Va.
Mrs. J. A. Thaxton, of Durham, N. C., was matron of honor, and John Robert Pugh was best man. Master Henry Brooks was ring bearer.

Delegates Leave for New York.
TRENTON, N. J., September 26.—The Atlantic Seaper vessel delegates departed to-night for New York at the close of the eighth annual convention. Addresses advocating improved waterways were made to-day at a mass meeting by many men of prominence. Secretary of the Navy Daniels was elected the first honorary member of the association.
